ADVERTISING AND HUMOR

INTRODUCTION

Grecian culture has always been regarded as the pinnacle of perfection.

Being only human, everybody is continually striving to reach the summit of his goal, usually perfection in some line of art or skill.

There are always places along the way where help may be secured. The most notable of these are school and home.

In school the student is given the opportunity to become as skilled as his tutor. He passes on to a higher education, either in reality of making a living for himself and others, or in gaining more knowledge through intensive study under a more skilled guidance than he has yet obtained.

Thus, as the Grecians toiled for a better living, we toil to become better students and citizens.

Therefore, the Senior Class of 1938 presents this annual in which we have endeavored to show the relation between Grecian perfection and a perfection of modern journalism, art, and photography.

*Dear Misses:
Wishing you
the best of luck

During the nine months of school in this training camp of life, problems appear which even the Thinker would have found hard to solve. They are very wisely handled by our patriarchs, the faculty and school board.

SCHOOL BOARD

The "budgeteers" of the Auburn Schools are often referred to as the School Board.

Mr. B. O. Snapp, president of the board, seems to have a natural ability for such a position. His past record in the financial and executive departments in the Auburn Automobile Company has given him the opportunity to develop this ability.

Dr. A. V. Hines is treasurer of this select group. He knows his mathematics as well as he knows the human anatomy and is accurate in his work.

Mr. R. W. Carlson, secretary, is employed at the Auburn Rubber Company. (You can see he has had a fitting preparatory course also.)

The superintendent of the schools, Mr. H. L. McKenney, acts as executive officer of this group. When it comes to the smooth running of an educational system and its intricacies, you'll have a hard time finding a better engineer than Mr. McKenney.

These men represent the enforcement of state laws in education. They also figure out the budget and other uninteresting things which must be done, but they do it willingly.

We can also assure you that each of these men would do his utmost to promote the good standard of our school in any way possible.

Mr. Miller Mr. Brookover Mr. Weathers Miss Sellers Miss Brandon Mr. Wilcox

ADMINISTRATION

The Faculty almost underwent a revolution this year. Miss Duff took the place of Miss Haynes as girls' physical education teacher; Miss Brandon became our new music teacher; Mr. Ettner replaced Mr. McMurtrey in freshman English; and Miss Clark stepped into the vacancy left by Miss Welbaum as typing teacher. But listen! Besides that, all Latin was changed to the instruction of Miss Dawson, and Miss Armstrong became the English instructor. Hardly seems like the same old school, does it? But everyone is well-fitted for the position he holds, and school is progressing as smoothly as ever.

ADMINISTRATION

Have you ever noticed those students working so diligently in Mr. Miller's office? They are N. Y. A. students, and believe me, they are some help!

The Parent-Teacher Association has lent many a helping hand this year. The receivers were students who really needed help in one way or another. The association met the requirements this year which enabled them to become a standard association. This is the first time Auburn High School has had a standard association. The officers of the association this year were: president, Mrs. B. O. Snapp; first vice president, Mr. L. W. Miller; second vice president, Mrs. Wayne Smith; secretary, Mrs. R. B. McCrum; treasurer, Mrs. C. D. Wimer.

ADMINISTRATION

Guidance has definitely been established as a part of the school curriculum. Every Monday morning, each home room spends one-half hour on the discussion of this topic.

Mimeographed bulletins are issued every morning and give the teachers their instructions for the day. School announcements are also added to this scheme. Did you ever hear Mr. Gump criticize the typing of one of these? Tch-tch-tch.

The students are also getting into the habit of bringing their excuses. Could that be due to Mr. Miller's influence?

A. 3; Noon League Basketball 1; Editor-in-Chief Annual 4; Property Manager 4; Commercial Group 4.

"Mars" is one of the school's outstanding scholars and can be depended on to represent A. H. S. in any activity. She can often be seen in the company of "a tall, dark, and handsome young man" from Hamilton Lake.

WILLIS ENGLE

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; Honor Group 1-2-4; Noon League Basketball 1-2-3-4; Interscholastic Group 2; District Geometry Contest 2; Bank Cashier 2; History Club 3.

Willis has been one of the best scholars during his four years in high school. He is an excellent mathematics student and has represented the school several times in interscholastic competition.

PIERRE TALBERT

A. 1-2-3-4; Football 1-2-3-4; Award 1-2-3-4; Basketball 1-2-3-4; Interclass Basketball 1; Noon League Basketball 1; Noon League Baseball 1-2-3-4; Class Officer 1-3, President 1, Treasurer 3; Honor Group 1-2-4; Operetta 1-2-3; Jr.-Sr. Play 4; Annual Staff 3-4, Junior Editor 3, Calendar Editor 4; Boys' Chorus 1-2; Boys' Quartet 2; Hi-Y 2-3-4; Track 3-4; Lettermen's Club 3-4, Secretary 3, President 4; Bank Cashier 1.

Pete is a four year Latin student and is very intellectual (as who with four years of Latin could help but be). He will long be remembered for his blushes and "the vase that didn't break" in the Junior-Senior Play.

JUNE KUHLMAN

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; Honor Group 1-2-3-4; G. A. A. 3; History Club 3-4; Home Ec Club 2; Commercial Group 3-4; Annual Staff 4, Calendar Editor 4.

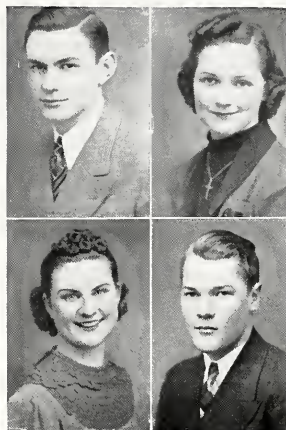

June is one of those girls with whom it is so delightful to associate. She has a high scholastic record and is one of our best commercial students.

CLASS OFFICERS

REXFORD RENZ

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4, Vice President 1, President 3-4; Football 2-3-4; Basketball 1-2-3-4; Track 3-4; Hi-Y 2-3-4; Noon League Basketball 1; Boys' Chorus 2-3; Operetta 2-3-4; Jr.-Sr. Play 4; Lettermen's Club 2-3-4; Noon League Baseball 1-2-3-4; History Club 3; Interclass Basketball 1-2; Photography Editor 4.

"Igonies" it will be a long time before people forget the part Rex took in the Junior-Senior play this year. He was on the first five in basketball and also played football. The school dances would not have been complete without him to call the "Big Apple." He has also been a very able president these past two years.

MARY ELLEN HINES

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4, Secretary 4; A. A. 1-2-3-4; G. A. A. 1-2-3-4; Glee Club 1-2-3-4; Chorus 1; Double Octet 2-3; County Chorus 1-3; Operetta 1-2-3-4; Jr.-Sr. Play 4; History Club 3-4; Girl Reserve 4; Art Group 4; Annual Staff 4, Class Editor 4; Noon League Basketball 1; Commercial Group 3; Bank Cashier 3-4; Interscholastic Group 3-4.

Mary is secretary of the Senior Class and an efficient one at that. She seems continuously to be allotted the parts of "older women" in the plays and operettas. She is an ardent basketball and "Garrett" fan.

RUTH SHAFFER

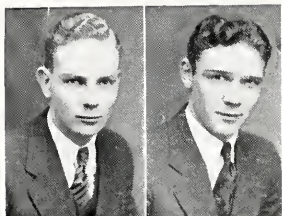

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; A. A. 1-2-3-4; Glee Club 1-2-3-4; Orchestra 1-2-3-4; Chorus 1; County Chorus 1-3; Glee Club Accompanist 3-4; Operetta 1; Operetta Accompanist 2-3-4; History Club 3-4; Pianist 3-4; Class Officer 4; Treasurer 4; Double Octet 2-3; Jr.-Sr. Play 3; Girl Reserve 4; Annual Staff 4; Music Editor 4; Commercial Group 4; State Music Contest 1.

Can she play the piano? The answer is definitely "Yes." Ruth has been the school's accompanist throughout her four years in A. H. S. Of course she was successful or she would not have been doing it four years. She has also been a very capable "watch dog" of our treasury this year.

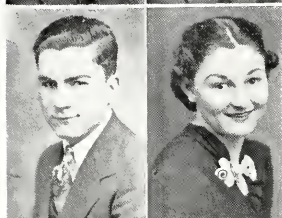

THOMAS McCRUM

A. H. S. 3-4; A. A. 3-4; History Club 3-4; Boys' Chorus 4; Class Vice President 4; Annual Staff 4; Sales Manager 4; Discussion 4; Jr.-Sr. Play 4; Operetta 3-4.

"Oh, I say, this is all such a beastly bore!" This current saying of Tom's belies his energetic spirit in all activities. He has a good scholastic record to show for his two years in A. H. S. Tom was our vice president this year.

ROBERT BEATY

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; A. A. 1-2-3-4; Hi-Y 3-4, Vice President 4; Hi-Y Conference 3; Letter Award 3-4; Lettermen's Club 3-4; Football 2-3-4; Track 3; Basketball 2; Noon League 1-2-3-4, Captain 4; Interclass Basketball 1-2-3-4; Noon League Baseball 1-2-3-4

"Rabbit" Beaty is one of Auburn's accomplished rabbit hunters and is well known for his fables on his prowess as a hunter and fisherman. He was a member of the football squad this year.

WAYNE BEIDLER

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; Noon League 2-3-4; Lettermen's Club 3-4; Track 3-4; Interclass Basketball 2.

"Jess" Beidler is one of the best dancers of A. H. S. We wonder if his training did not come from a sweet young thing in Garrett. He is also one of the pole vaulters of the track team.

CLAUDE BRANDON

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; Noon League Baseball 1-2; Track 2-3-4; Letter Award 2-3-4; Lettermen's Club 3-4; A. A. 2-3-4.

"Red" Brandon really does himself proud as one of Zeke's 440 men. He is in great demand when skating parties are in season. And remember those senior English classes! Red, I'm ashamed of you.

CLEO BRANDON

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; Chorus 1; Home Ec Club 1-2-3-4; Girl Reserve 4, Officer 4; Banking Cashier 2-3; Noon League Basketball 1.

Cleo is well known for her active and energetic undertakings in Girl Reserve and Home Economics. Pep seems to be her middle name as her friendships here and in neighboring towns ascertain.

ELIZABETH BROWN

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; A. A. 1-2-3-4; G. A. A. 1-2-3-4, President 4; Class Officer 1; History Club 3-4; Glee Club 1-2-3-4; Operetta 1-2-3-4; Art Group 4; Chorus 1; Interscholastic Group 1; Commercial Group 3; County Chorus 1-2; Double Quartet 1-2-3-4.

"Liz" is one of A. H. S.'s outstanding girl athletes and is the president of G. A. A. She is always ready to participate in any fun that is on hand, namely snaring around with a group of girls in her "lizzie" and dancing. She is the alto of the Brown, Carmer, Close trio.

JOSEPH BURTON

A. H. S. 4; Noon League Basketball 4

Although Joe has only been with us one year, he is well liked by the students. He can usually be found at the "Temple" or with a certain Senior girl.

Jeanne is a very talented young lady. She is a member of the Brown, Carmer, Close trio and had the lead in the Junior-Senior Play. Her lead in the Operetta this year shows that she can sing.

MARTHA CLOSE

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; Treasurer 2; G. A. A. 1-2-3-4; Honor Group 1-2-3-4; Interscholastic Group 1-2-3-4; Operetta 1-2-3; Algebra Contest 1; Geometry Contest 2; History Club 3-4; Chorus 1-2; Glee Club 1-2-3-4; Vice President G. A. A. 3; Noon League Basketball 1; Editor-in-Chief of Annual 4; Property Manager 4; Banking Cashier 4; Commercial Group 4.

"Sade" is one of the school's best-liked and most energetic members. She is the editor of this little book and is well known for her part in the Brown, Carmer, Close trio.

GEORGE COOL

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; F. F. A. 1-2-3-4, President 4; Noon League Basketball 2-3-4; Football 3; A. A. 1-2-3-4; Track 1-2-3-4; Lettermen's Club 3-4.

George is one of the school's track men and is often seen driving a Ford. Being a member of F. F. A., much can be expected from him in the future as a man of the farm.

THELMA COSPERS

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; A. A. 1-2-3-4; Glee Club 1; Girls' Chorus 1; G. A. A. 3-4; Honor Group 3; Commercial Group 4.

"Tillie" would certainly be in the high school popularity group if we had one. She has personality and lots of pep, and is also one of our outstanding commercial students.

ELIZABETH COUGILL

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; G. A. A. 2-3-4; Home Economics Club 4; History Club 3-4; Girl Reserve 4; Noon League Basketball 1; Art Group 4.

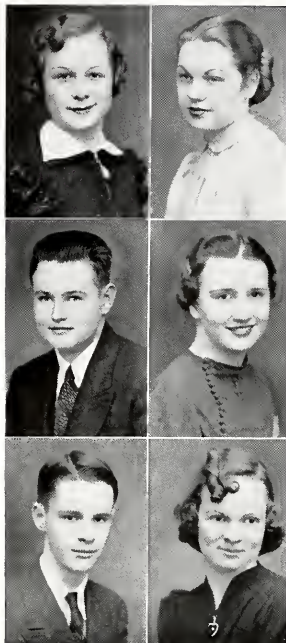

"Lizzy" is one of the active members of G. A. A. She is very quiet and versatile, but when the right time comes she can be counted on for a whole-hearted giggle.

HOWARD CRAVEN

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; A. A. 1-2-3-4; Basketball 1-2-3-4; Football 3-4; Lettermen 3-4; Hi-Y 2-3-4; Operetta 1-2-4; Jr.-Sr. Play 4; Golf 3-4.

"Hod" is one of Auburn's basketball and football players. He is always ready for a good time and "plenty of eats." His attention at the present seems to be directed toward a certain young Junior lady.

WANDA DAILEY

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; Glee Club 1-2; Chorus 1; Band 1-2-3-4; Orchestra 2; Girls' Noon League Basketball 1.

Wanda has led the band in marching all year. She is quiet and reserved, but this does not keep her from winning many friends and being successful in her scholastic activities.

BEULAH DUKE

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; G. A. A. 1-2; Noon League Basketball 1; Home Economics Club 2-3-4, President 3, Delegate to Indianapolis 3; Girl Reserve 4; Bank Cashier 2.

Beulah is very conscientious and thorough in her studies. She is a member of the Home Economics Club and can often be seen in the company of one, Betty Poppele.

WILLIS ENGLE

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; Honor Group 1-2-4; Noon League Basketball 1-2-3-4; Noon League Baseball 1-2-3-4; Interscholastic Group 2; District Geometry Contest 2; Bank Cashier 3; History Club 3.

"Willy" is the captain of the winning class league basketball team, and is also a captain of a Noon League team. He is a clever baseball player and is usually a member of the winning team.

DOREATHA FISHER

A. H. S. 2-3-4; History Club 3-4; Commercial Group 3; Girl Reserve 4.

Although "Dot" has only been in our midst for a few years, she is one of the best-liked members of the student body and readily made a place for herself. She is one of the outstanding commercial students.

LIONEL FLEMING

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; A. A. 1-2-3; Boys' Chorus 1; Jr.-Sr. Play Stage Manager 4; History Club 3-4.

Lionel is an efficient member of our class and can always be counted on to help in any project we undertake. He has been an active member of History Club for the past two years.

JEANNE FLETCHER

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; A. A. 1-2-3-4; History Club 3-4; Girl Reserve 4; Glee Club 1-2-3-4; Chorus 1; Operetta 1-2-3-4; G. A. A. 3; Double Octet 3-4; Art Group 2.

Jeanne is well known for her singing ability, as her part in the operetta shows. She is often seen in the company of one, "Peck" Sisson, and it is rumored that he is that way about her.

"Spike" is a very fine artist in the making. With his combination of brains and "artistic touch" he should be quite successful in this line. His artistic talent in music is shown by his participation in that organization known as the "Dukes of Swing."

ROEINE GARMAN

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; Bank Cashier 1; Chorus 1-2; Glee Club 1-2-3-4; Interscholastic 2-3-4; Jr.-Sr. Play 3-4; Operetta 1-2-3; County Chorus 1; G. A. A. 1-2-3-4; Noon League Basketball 1; Annual Staff 4; Girl Reserve 4.

"Rony" has been very active in school life, having been in many of the plays and operettas. She is also a very eloquent speaker as her discussion ribbons warrant.

JAMES GOINGS

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; Orchestra 3; Band 1-2-4; Noon League Basketball 2-3-4; History Club 3-4; Interscholastic Group 4.

When the band steps out between halves at basketball games, you will see Jim right at the head of the line. We have this to say, "He can take it."

ANITA GRAMLING

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; Girl Reserve 4; Chorus 1; Glee Club 3; Home Economics Club 4; History Club 3-4.

A very quiet and reserved girl, and as rumor goes, she is desirous to do some sort of writing. We hereby endorse her as a future author of whom A. H. S. will be proud.

LEONARD HESS

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; A. A. 1-2-3-4; Football 1-2-3-4; Basketball 1-2-3-4; Lettermen's Club 3-4; Hi-Y 2-3-4; Secretary 4; Noon League Basketball 1; Art Group 4.

"Gable" is a big heart throb to many of the girls and is considered a real triple threat man. He was on the varsity basketball team this year. He excels on the gridiron as well as on the hardwood.

ROSE HOUSEL

A. H. S. 1-4; Home Economics Club 4.

We saw something new flash into high school the first of the year, and surely enough it was Rose. Although she has been with us only at intervals during her high school days, she has many friends.

"Willie's" infectious grin seems to be catching. She was elected president of the first Girl Reserve organization this high school has ever had. She has proved herself very able in this capacity. Her weaknesses seem to be pleated skirts and Waterloo boys.

WALTER KLEEMAN

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; Noon League Basketball 1-2; Basketball 3-4; Hi-Y 2-3-4; Art Group 4; Noon League Baseball 1-2-3; Interclass Basketball 2; Boys' Chorus 1.

"Walt" is one of the basketball players, and has handled himself very creditably on the hardwood. He is another one of those boys that are often seen heading toward Garrett, but that doesn't seem to hurt his popularity in Auburn in the least.

BETTY KREIDER

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; A. Hair bows and the town north of us seem to be June's weaknesses. She is interested in Home Ec and in furthering her commercial training.

ROBERT MCINTURF

A. H. S. 3-4; History Club 3; Noon League Basketball 3-4; Interclass Basketball 3-4; Noon League Baseball 3-4; Hi-Y 3-4; Operetta 3; Annual Staff 4; Assistant Business Manager 4.

Bob is an all around good fellow and can always be counted on to have a good time. He has displayed some clever ball in noon league. He is often seen headed north, and we wonder why.

NEIL MCKENNEY

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; Boys' Chorus 1-2; History Club 3-4; Hi-Y 4; Discussion 4; Annual Staff 4; Assistant Sales Manager 4.

Neil is one who can dish it out as well as take it. He is known for his talk on peace. He is very popular with the boys as they seem to know when he wants to walk for his "health."

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; Noon League Basketball 1-2-3-4; Cheer Leader 3-4; Letterman 3-4; Lettermen's Club 4.

Yeah! Rahl! A. H. S.! Bob has been our star yell leader for the past two years. It was his pep and guidance, as well as the team's playing, that have won us many a game.

ALTA MAE MARTIN

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; Orchestra 2; Band 1-2-3-4; Noon League Basketball 1; G. A. A. 2-3; History Club 3.

ELLENORA MEISER

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; Chorus 1; Glee Club 2; G. A. A. 3-4; History Club 3-4; Girl Reserve 4.

This little girl certainly does get around a lot (especially to our neighboring towns). Her work in Girl Reserve this year has brought out talents heretofore hidden from us.

TED OWENS

A. H. S. 4; A. A. 4; Hi-Y 4; Noon League Basketball 4; Interclass Basketball 4; Football 4.

Speak of Noon League and you think of Ted, for, although he has been with us one year, he has taken an active part in many Noon League games. He is an ardent "Big Apple" fan.

"Betty's" giggle has endeared her in the hearts of the pupils of A. H. S. She has been an able assistant to Mr. Miller this year and can often be seen in his office. She can usually be found with her very good friend, Beulah Duke.

PAUL RUGMAN

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; Football 2-3-4; Letter Award 3-4; Lettermen's Club 3-4; Hi-Y 3-4.

Did some one mention nicknames? Well, Paul has so many they can't be counted. He is an ardent basketball fan and was a member of our football squad. His main weakness is skipping school to go hunting with Beaty.

ROGER RUSSELL

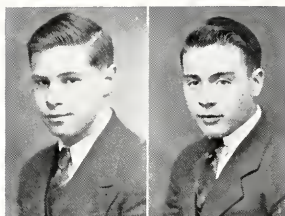

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; A. A. 1-2-3-4; Hi-Y 3-4.

"Red" works at his dad's confectionary and can always be counted on to laugh at a joke, whether it is on him or someone else. (This accounts for his seat being changed so much in English.) However, he is very popular and has many friends.

Oh, these handsome football and basketball stars! (Sigh) Scottie received the Hickory Club award for his football playing and was one of our best basketball players. However, his main interest has been a certain black-haired junior.

ROGER SHULL

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4.

If anybody has enjoyed his four years in A. H. S. as much as Roger has, they'll have to go some. Oh yes, I believe Roger did take "Ag." He says he had to do something while he was in school.

He can sing, he can dance; he can pull the best jokes. In fact "Peck" has about everything. He has been an active member in Hi-Y and is one of the art group this year. He can usually be found with a blonde Senior girl.

LYNDON SMITH

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; Noon League Basketball 2-3-4; Interclass Basketball 2-4; Basketball 2-3; Football 3; Noon League Baseball 3-4.

Glen's affection seems to turn toward the Junior Class. He was one of our star halfbacks on the football team. He was business manager in basketball this year and made himself quite indispensable to the squad.

HELEN STEBING

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; Glee Club 2-4; Operetta 1; Girls' Chorus 1; Interscholastic Group 4.

Several students in our class seem to be commercially minded. Helen is one of them. She has rated very high in all her studies, which is a great help toward a secretarial career.

ISABEL TROVINGER

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; G. A. A. 3-4; History Club 3-4; Art Group 3; Girls' Chorus 1; Glee Club 2; Girl Reserve 4.

Isabel has been the envy of the school because she received such marvelous letters from her French boy. (Most of the other French students didn't come out so well with their correspondence). "Izzy" is peppy and popular with everyone.

"Wimpy" was one of our crack basketball players. He has made a very able president of Hi-Y this year, especially inasmuch as they sponsored the first school dance. His friendly disposition has made him a popular member of the graduating class.

GARTHARD ZEGENFUS

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; Art Group 4.

"Garlus" is an expert artist. He is well liked by every one and can usually be counted on for a humorous remark. He can often be seen driving around town in his "Chevie."

CLASS OFFICERS AND ADVISERS

The second week of school the announcements read, "Senior Class meeting to be held in the assembly at four P. M."

That evening there was a general rush towards the assembly, and five minutes later the first class election of the year was underway. Mr. Miller supervised all meetings and presided until the class president was elected.

This year the Freshmen selected as their officers: Ernest Foltz, president; Lawrence Boger, vice president; Arthur Muzzillo, secretary; Barbara Short, treasurer; and Mr. Brookover, history instructor and basketball coach, class adviser.

The Sophomores elected Bud Axtell, president; Robert Trader, vice president; Demaris Hardy, secretary; and Eleanor Mitchell, treasurer. They chose Miss Dawson as their class adviser.

Mr. Weathers was chosen as the Juniors' class adviser and has certainly brought them through with flying colors. They selected as their other leaders: Stanley Hines, president; Archie Kirkpatrick, vice president; Margaret Snapp, secretary; and Jane Hines, treasurer.

The Seniors again elected Rex Renz as president; they named Tom McCrum, vice president; Mary Ellen Hines, secretary; and Ruth Shaffer, treasurer. Mr. Gump was selected as class adviser for the fourth consecutive year.

The student leaders have performed their duties very successfully throughout the school year.

THE LAVENDER AND GREEN

The Juniors, under the careful leadership of Mr. Weathers, put on the most successful Junior Carnival that has ever been staged in A. H. S.

This group of students seems to have the happy faculty for being able to make money. They helped their financial standing by selling Christmas cards, and "eats" at the football games.

A tragic incident of the school year was the fatal injury received by Earl Carr, a member of this class, in the Garrett-Auburn football game. His death has meant a great loss to this school, both in athletics and as a well-loved friend and schoolmate.

This class is well known for its ability along various lines. Some of the better known artists are: Matie Sisson for her dancing; Jane Hines, Vivienne Zeigler, Margaret Snapp, Peggy Hachet, and Jeanne Collins in music; Jean Trader and Georgiana Souders for their dramatic ability; Carlton Brandon, Stanley Hines, Archie Kirkpatrick, Adrian Mavis, Neil McDarby, and Don Reynolds for their athletic prowess.

The following have been on the Honor Roll during the past year: Jane Hines, Peggy Hachet, Donald Schaab, and Frederick Hall.

Looks pretty good!

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

The Sophomores under the leadership of their adviser, Miss Dawson, and Bud Axtell, the class president, have laid good foundations for their next two years.

One of the outstanding personalities of this class is none other than "Jason" Davis. Being rotund and jolly, he was generally accepted by all. He became the "mascot" of the basketball team toward the latter part of the season and brought them very good luck.

The class offers as their representatives in athletics: Bob Trader, Dick Craven, Bill Owens, Bob Hersh, Eugene Rinehold, John Tarter, Charles Gros- cup, Paul Walter, and Marlin Yoder.

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

Paul Walter, Paul Smith, Eleanor Mitchell, and Betty Steckley represented this class on the Honor Roll.

Various members of the class held offices in G. A. A. Several of the most active members of this organization were Martha Brown, Betty Steckley, Betty Williams, Veva Martin, Dorene McClintock, and Betty Close.

Bud Axtell, Betty Williams, Dick Craven, and others have taken an active and outstanding part in the musical activities of the year.

This class has shown itself original in all of its activities and much is expected from it in its two remaining years.

THE FRESHMAN CLASS

The Freshman Class entered high school this year with rather puzzled expressions on their faces, but gradually they seemed to comprehend the experiment they were undertaking.

They started out with a very unique float in the Fall Fair parade and have continued to show equal ability in other school affairs.

Ernest Foltz was elected class president, and Mr. Brookover, class adviser. The president responded to the Senior president at the Freshman Reception with a very creditable speech. At this reception the other three classes entertain the Freshmen to initiate them into high school.

5th row: Robbins, Shutt, A. Muzzillo, E. Foltz, L. Boger, Short, Seigal, Swain.

THE FRESHMAN CLASS

This group has furnished the school with several athletic hopes. They are Ernest Foltz, Max Culler, Arthur Muzzillo, Ralph Muzzillo, Robert Garman, Bob Eckhart, and Denny McDarby.

The girls have not let the boys get ahead of them in the least. Judy Buchanan, Megan Farnham, Ferne Cripe, Betty Schaab, Lois Mains, and Ann Alexander have represented their class in both G. A. A. and in various musical activities.

Henry Ford, Betty Schooley, Ferne Cripe, Lois Mains, Eva Beller, and Ann Alexander are the honor students of the class.

Much is expected from this talented group in their ensuing years in high school.

SUMMARY OF ADMINISTRATION AND CLASSES

Among the teaching personnel appeared several new faces. These new additions to the faculty have proved themselves very active in school life and well versed in their "art."

The first social activity of the school year was the P.-T. A. potluck. A large crowd of parents, students, and faculty attended. The program was furnished by the outstanding talent in the different classes.

At the Freshman Reception a small part of the green material was rubbed off the many ears when Rex Renz welcomed the Freshmen into the student body. Ernie Foltz replied in a manly fashion. The Juniors furnished refreshments, and the Sophomores decorated the gym.

Each of the four classes was represented in the Free Fall Fair parade by gaily decorated cars or floats.

The Junior Carnival with its fun and many concessions was very successful, clearing better than a hundred dollars.

The Junior-Senior Play was postponed until December because of the death of our classmate, Earl Carr, on November 2nd.

An old precedent was broken this year in the form of several school dances. The opening one was sponsored by the Hi-Y, and the others by the P.-T. A.

On May 22 the Seniors attended Baccalaureate at the Methodist Church, and Rev. Fisher delivered the sermon.

May 23 the Juniors entertained the Seniors at the Annual Banquet. It was held at the Women's Club, Fort Wayne, and everyone seemed to enjoy himself.

Commencement was held for the Class of '38 in the Alumni Gymnasium on May 25th. An interesting address was given by Dr. John G. Benson, and the graduates received their diplomas.

The activities were officially ended on May 27th at Hamilton Lake when the school migrated there for the annual picnic.

SCHOOL LIFE

SCHOOL LIFE

We have gradually progressed from the strict school curriculum of Grecian days to a wide variety of curricular activities. Every student is able to find something to suit his needs. Rather nice, what?

Is that Brandon or Garbo?

SEPTEMBER

Look at the new faces! But with 97 freshmen out of 333 students you would expect just that. Vacation is over, school has begun, and all have decided to buckle down to work.

The ranks of the faculty showed some substitutions, also—Miss Mary Brandon for Miss Moor as music instructor, Mr. Ettner for Mr. McMurtrey as freshman English teacher, and Miss Wilma Duff as girls' physical "ed" teacher. Miss Grace Clark became one of our faculty members a couple of weeks after school started when Miss Welbaum departed for greener pastures.

Bob Potter, as football business manager, took the grimy gridders under his wing. Our team played all over the Columbia City footballers to the tune of 30-0 on the 17th.

Our band blossomed forth with new black and maroon uniforms at the Boy Scout Camporee.

Our Red Devils, in a fairy-like manner (Rugman, a fairy?) scampered over the Decatur goal line four times with two conversions to make the score 26-0.

As one of the special features of our Free Fall Fair, Don Lash ran from Garrett to Auburn in 21:38 minutes.

Has anyone seen that post-graduate, that candid, candid cameraman, that one and only Steve Fitch? The Annual Staff wants some snapshots taken.

P. T. A. potlucks
are fun, too.

OCTOBER

We were finally released on Friday, October 1, to enjoy the ballyhoo at the Fall Fair. Everybody took part in the parade, one of the big features of the day.

On the 8th the freshmen were initiated, i.e., formally, into our social life, at the Freshman Reception. The Dukes of Swing furnished part of the program.

We went to Howe Military Academy and emerged victorious over the Howe team and the influence of the Fair with a score of 7 to 6. Still in the win, we took the Bluffton Tigers on our own field, the first chance for home rooters to see the Red Devils in action. The score was 6-0 in spite of the rain.

Mr. A. L. Trester gave us an inspiring talk and a new understanding of sportsmanship. He is the State Commissioner of Athletics. His subject was "Youthtime is Education Time."

Our team lost (and how!) its first game of the season to Central with a score of 35-6.

Three hundred of us went over to the big gym and ate at the P. T. A. "get acquainted" supper on the 18th. Rex Renz, the master-of-ceremonies, introduced the entertainers who were selected from the whole school.

Our eleven burly brutes stepped all over the Hicksville team on the 22nd. The score was 40-0.

Garrett beat us, 31-14, in the last game of our football season.

NOVEMBER

This month has brought a tragedy into our school. Earl Carr, one of our outstanding athletes, was seriously injured in the Garrett game. His death several days later was a great shock to all of us.

The Junior Carnival proved to be a huge success with Margaret Snapp and Ray Scott as king and queen.

The annual basketball drive to sell season tickets was started. There was much competition between the four classes to see which would be the winner.

Important rule changes in basketball this year provide much excitement and entertainment. Another added attraction at the home games was the high school band who played between games and at the half in new uniforms.

Our team lost the first game of the season which was played with Ashley at Ashley. However, the Red Devils won the first home game with Albion by a score of 35-20. This game showed much improvement in the team.

The Red Devils made two straight victories by defeating Central Catholic on the Fort Wayne floor. The game was close all the way through, but our team squeezed out an extra three points at the end.

The Auburn Red Devils trimmed the sails of the Butler "Windmills" in a pre-Thanksgiving game with the final score, 21-15. Our band gave a drill exhibition between halves of the varsity game, making the letters, "A," "H" and "S."

Our team won a conference game played with Bluffton. The score was 32-23.

We got a chance to eat, catch up on our studies, and loaf all at the same time by taking time out for the Thanksgiving vacation. It was made plain, however, that school would be resumed on Monday. (And it was!)

The new athletic grounds will be known as the "Earl Carr Memorial Field." The name was selected as a tribute to the ability and fine sportsmanship that Earl displayed at all times.

DECEMBER

The Junior-Senior play, "Here Comes Charlie," was presented the first and second of this month. It was an extremely clever play and well cast. Jeanne Carner took the part of Charlie, and Pierre Talbert the role of her foster parent with whom she falls in love. Rex Renz was a riot as Charlie's hill-billy uncle. Other members of the cast were Iris Pendland, Merle Mock, Mary Ellen Hines, Howard Craven, Jean Trader, Roeine Garman, and Tom McCrum.

A Girl Reserve Club, the feminine counterpart of Hi-Y, was organized by Miss Hugdel, Miss Dawson, and Miss Clark. The officers were Willidene Kimmell, president; Jane Hines, vice president; Jean Rowley, secretary; and Dorothy Boren, treasurer.

The Lions from Leo broke the Auburn Red Devils' winning streak by a score of 31 to 26. But the "seconds" won 20 to 19.

Our team retaliated by winning from Kendallville with a score of 27 to 19. This was the conference game, and Scott made 15 points, four less than all the Comets put together.

Auburn lost two in a row, one to South Side, the score—29 to 26, and the other in the second game with Kendallville, 33 to 24.

At last we were dismissed for Christmas vacation. A program was given in the auditorium including a play presented by the English class. Iris Pendland gave a reading, and we all joined in on the carols.

During the Christmas vacation our team got back in the "win column" again by defeating Huntington Township by 29 to 20. We also won from Central of Fort Wayne. The score—28 to 22.

JANUARY

Here we are, back in school again. What a strain for some of the students to get here in time after sleeping as long as they wished. (Oh, hummmm. Me, too!)

In the first game of the month the Red Devils were defeated by the Decatur Yellow Jackets. The score was 28 to 25. This defeat dropped our team to third in the Conference standing.

Auburn won an unexpected victory from New Haven. Score 28 to 26.

We learned that the regional tournament was shifted to Warsaw by the High School Athletic Association. The sectional is to be played at Garrett.

We played our old rivals, Garrett, and came back home holding the short end of a 36 to 33 score. (No alibis.)

A talk on thrift, augmented by pictures, was presented to us in the little gym. (Save your pennies!)

Neil McKenney was the winner in the discussion contest held by the Auburn Rotary Club. The subject was "The Business Man's Opportunity to Promote World Peace." Bud Axtell captured second place honors, Kent McKenney, third, and Fred Hall, fourth.

On the twenty-sixth we learned how exacting the automobile manufacturing industry is by hearing and seeing pictures given under the sponsorship of Chevrolet.

One of the great social events of the year took place when the Hi-Y boys put on a dance in the Li'l Gym. Only the students, faculty, and parents were invited, but everyone had a good time. The Dukes of Swing beat out the tunes. (There are rumors of more! Oh, boy!)

FEBRUARY

The annual staff was announced, and work on the "Follies" was begun.

The Red Devils gave North Side a tough battle but were defeated 37 to 35. That same day we saw a movie, "The Spirit of the Plains."

Mr. Felch, a world traveler, gave us a talk on his travels and demonstrated a remarkable ability in shooting a blow-gun.

The P. T. A. sponsored a Valentine dance and it was free to all. The Dukes "swinged" and everybody joined in on the candy walks and "Big Apple." (All did we say?)

A large crowd attended the Founders' Day Program given by the five P. T. A.'s of Auburn. Raymond Willis delivered an inspiring address, "The End of the Rainbow."

Lincoln's and Washington's birthday celebrations were observed at one time. The speaker, brought from Fort Wayne by the History Club, gave an educational and interesting talk on the life of Lincoln in Indiana.

We won in a thrilling overtime game with the Columbia City Eagles, 28-26. On the next night the Devils went to Warsaw and gave them the worst drubbing of the season. Score, 47-34.

On the 24th Murdock, the Magician, came and gave a demonstration of his mystic powers at noon-league and that evening and afternoon gave a regular performance. He even created ghosts and made them walk.

In the last game of the season our team had an easy time defeating the Hartford City Airedales by a score of 37-29. Ray Scott, who was high with twelve points, was shooting for second place honors in the Northeastern Indiana Conference, but he was short just three points in his attempt to replace Kistler of Garrett in second place. However, he holds third place, which is a distinct honor.

MARCH

The basketball season may be over for some but with the tournaments just beginning, the course of study is greatly upset.

In the sectional at Garrett the Red Devils were defeated by the Waterloo Wildcats, one of the strongest teams in the tournament. At the half our team was in the lead by a large margin, but the Wildcats began to scratch and won the game by three points.

The winner of the sectional tournament was Garrett, who, however, was eliminated by Kendallville in the regional at Warsaw.

South Side was the winner in the semi-finals and went on to win the state championship at Indianapolis.

Five ministers from the Ministerial Association were presented to us on March 9. Mr. Fisher was the main speaker.

On the 23rd we saw a sound film on "Ground Water."

Edward M. Dill gave an interesting demonstration on making pottery and gave the history of pottery making. His talk was entitled "The Potter at the Wheel."

Operetta tryouts were staged and practice was begun. From the chords and discords which we hear emanating from our Alma Mater daily, we ought to have a fine production.

APRIL

The first days of April presented the spectacle of "Zeke" getting the track team in shape for the season. The boys look very efficient in their new sweat clothes.

We listened to a musical program given by the band, orchestra, chorus and glee club in the little gym.

The Easter vacation constituted a lull in our school life, from the 14th to the 19th.

Dancing became the current subject when it was announced that there was to be another "brawl" down in the little gym at Eastertide.

On the 16th our track team went over to Garrett and competed against Kendallville and on the 23rd went to Howe.

Miss Betty Robinson, the girl with two Olympic championships, demonstrated her skill before the entire assembly on the 26th.

Golden voices filled the little gym with sweet harmonies when the operetta, "The Fire Prince," was given on the 28th and 29th. This was Miss Mary Brandon's initial attempt at a stage production and was received very well.

As usual April had a dampening effect on our spirits by its repeated cloudbursts, but the sun was shining when we went into the home stretch of the school year.

MAY

We saw two movies to start off the last month, "The Work of Running Water," and the "Moving World."

On the 7th the "thinlies" went down to North Side and participated in the Conference track meet.

As the month of May drew to a close, pressure was applied to neglected studies so as to bring a happy ending to the year's work—and the Physics students strained to get those precious "thirty" experiments done.

Baccalaureate services were held on the 22nd at the Methodist Church. Mr. Fisher, pastor of the Church of Christ, delivered the sermon.

When the last of the Annual dues was paid, the school experienced the annual flood of the Follies and autograph hounds. (May I use your pen?)

This year the boys and girls in their gay regalia went down to Fort Wayne for the gala event of the year, the Junior-Senior Banquet.

On the 25th the townspeople and, of course, the Seniors gathered together for the passing of the buck—I mean sheepskin. This signified the termination of twelve years of work and gave those interested the right to go on in their search for knowledge.

We all went up to Circle Park and ate our fill at the high school picnic, and the 1937-1938 school year was officially closed.

"My, My! I'm running around like a chicken that's lost its head." This comes from too many extra-curricular activities and can easily be done in our school. Ask the editor; she learned it from experience. The Greeks even had a word for it.

EDITORIAL

The Greeks and their culture were chosen as the theme of our annual this year.

Mr. Miller and Mr. Ettner supervised the staff this year. The faculty, although sometimes annoyed, allowed the students to leave classes for their pictures.

Both major and minor staffs cooperated willingly and promptly.

Rice's Studio did an excellent job on our photography again this year. The Fort Wayne Engraving Company did our engraving with many helpful suggestions, while covers were purchased from the Kover-Kraft Company.

May I say that without the help of all these, this book might have been "all Greek to me."

HONOR GROUP

Each year the four students from each class who have maintained the highest average during the year are selected for the honor group. Since the modern schools offer a very wide field of subjects from which to make selections, pupils have every opportunity to study what they want.

This group is not an organized body like the clubs of the high school but is merely a representative body of scholastic standards. It gives the students who excelled scholastically a merited honor.

INTERSCHOLASTIC GROUP

To be a member of the interscholastic group means that the student has been excellent enough in certain subjects to compete in different contests. It is a coveted honor to be a member of this group.

Those entering the local discussion contest were Roeline Garman, Betty Kreider, Tom McCrum, and Donald Newcomer. Roeline received first place, and Donald won second place, giving Roeline an opportunity to go to Fort Wayne and enter the District Contest.

Lawrence Boger and Henry Ford represented Auburn in the District Algebra Contest, and Paul Smith entered the Geometry Contest.

Neil McKenney placed first in the discussion contest for high school students sponsored by the Rotary Club.

These people uphold the school's honor in other things besides sports. This is the only other group, besides athletics, which goes away from home to compete with other schools for honors. Auburn has always been well represented and has a good record, competing with schools of many times her size.

ORCHESTRA

Practice was held the last period on Mondays and Fridays, and Spring Concert rehearsals on Monday evenings. It's surprising that such a pleasing effect could come from the combination of sweet and sour tones. Some of their favorite numbers were: "Polka Dots" by Buchtel, novelty arrangement for three trumpets; "Sunbeams" by Richards, an alto saxophone solo; and "Princess of India," by K. L. King. Their repertoire is made up of novelties, such as trombone smears, drum and bugle corps, piano concertos, and accordion solos.

In addition to the many outside activities, the orchestra plays for the Junior-Senior play and the operetta.

Mr. Wilcox has combined the orchestra and band in an annual concert which is held in May. He has developed sections in many unusual instruments, such as the French horn, accordion, mellophone, and xylophone. This concert brings a good crowd of people every year from the vicinity and other towns and shows the ability of Pres Wilcox.

BAND

How our hearts swell with pride when the band marches in front of us with their new uniforms. This has been one big year for the band. Their uniforms are black capes lined with red, white trousers, and caps with a monogrammed "A" on them. The uniform of Mr. Wilcox, the director, is gold and white; and that of the drum major, Bud Axtell, is done in red and white.

The band's repertoire consists of standard marches, overtures, selections, and popular numbers.

During the year they play for the Fall Fair, basketball and football games. One of the special attractions of the basketball games was the band marching between halves, making letters for the visiting and home teams. Their marching was excellent considering the short time they had for practice.

LETTERMEN

One of the biggest thrills in a high school boy's life is to win one of the coveted awards given to the outstanding players in different sports.

Football awards come in two different forms, a red chenille "A" and silver footballs. Silver footballs were given to seniors only, while members of all classes are eligible for a red "A." Those receiving "A's" were N. McDarby, R. Scott, R. Renz, J. Tarter, P. Talbert, P. Rugman, S. Hines, L. Hess, G. Stebing, P. Muhn, R. Beaty, R. Potter, L. Wible, H. Craven, E. Rinehold, A. Mavis, A. Kirkpatrick, R. Craven, M. Culler, D. Schaab, E. Carr, J. Taylor, and D. McDarby. Those receiving silver footballs were L. Wible, H. Craven, R. Renz, P. Muhn, G. Stebing, P. Rugman, R. Beaty, R. Scott, and E. Carr. Pierre Talbert, L. Hess and S. Hines received footballs previously. Ray Scott was captain of the backfield, and Pierre Talbert was captain of the line.

The basketball jackets also were given to seniors only. Pierre Talbert received the only one given this year. L. Hess, L. Wible, H. Craven, W. Kleeman, R. Scott, and R. Renz received theirs last year.

The track awards are white felt winged "A's." Those receiving awards last year were F. Gingrich, G. Hess, C. Burns, W. Beidler, Claude Brandon, Carlton Brandon, G. Cool, E. Carr, M. Fraunfelter, A. Kirkpatrick, D. Myers, R. Renz, D. Reynolds, G. Stebing, R. Scott, C. Stallman, D. Shutt, and P. Whittington. The captain of last year's track team was Earl Carr.

The lettermen organized into a club. They elected as their officers: Pierre Talbert, president; Lawrence Wible, treasurer; and Eugene Rinehold, secretary.

BOYS' CHORUS

"Come on, put some feeling into it." The boys' deep voices then pour out harmony far beyond expectation. The boys take time out every so often to throw paper-wads or to sail airplanes.

They have entertained various clubs and organizations in the vicinity with their favorite songs: "Men of Harlech," "Old Man River," "Old King Cole," and "The Parade of the Wooden Soldiers."

As the result of singing for various clubs and organizations, under the direction of their very capable teacher, Miss Brandon, the boys have received a confidence and experience which have proved invaluable to the operetta.

This group of young Carusos meets every Tuesday and Thursday mornings. Aside from singing various songs, they have also studied many of the great composers in the history of music. From all comments, it sounds as if it were quite interesting. "I wish I were a boy!"

Katherine Mefford is to be congratulated on her willingness to come back this year and act as accompanist for this group. I daresay it has not proved dull.

My! What hearty discords.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PLAY "HERE COMES CHARLIE"

Hold your hats folks for "Here Comes Charlie." This was the title of the Junior-Senior Play presented December 1-2, 1937. The play was directed by Mr. Kenneth Eitner.

Imagine the surprise of Larry Elliott, an up-and-coming business man, when the little boy he thought he was going to take care of turned out to be a girl of eighteen.

It all started when a Hill-billy saved Larry's life. Larry promised to do anything the Hill-billy asked, and he asked Larry to take care of Charlie.

Vivian is engaged to Larry but she refuses to marry him if he does not send Charlie away. Charlie refuses to go and scares Vivian with a paper knife. Aunt Fanny cannot get rid of her honestly and so she tries to frame Charlie by accusing her of stealing Mrs. Smythe-Kersey's pearls. Uncle Aleck, who has been turned into a butler, outsmarts her and turns the accusation on Fanny herself. Uncle Aleck takes Charlie away to a finishing school.

One year later Charlie comes back to attend a birthday party in her honor. Ted, Mortimer, and Larry are all in love with her. Uncle Aleck "spills the beans" and tells that Mrs. Smythe-Kersey was once an Ozarkean; Charlie chooses Larry, and the play ends with a grand march to dinner.

Business staff: Martha Close, Virginia Smith, Naomi Kalb, Eva Rieke, and Wilmer Freeman. Student directors, Willidene Kimmell and Betty Kreider. Make-up was in charge of Miss Gladys Duguid.

OPERETTA

"LOVE PIRATES OF HAWAII"

Auburn High School has gone Hawaiian. Oh! Don't be alarmed for it is just the cast for the light opera given April 8-9. "Love Pirates of Hawaii" was directed by Miss Frances Moor. The clever lines were sung with the swing of professionals.

Dorothy, an American girl, announces the arrival of a United States war-ship and a sailor, named Billy, in whom she is greatly interested. He is to come disguised as a Pirate.

Miss Primer learns of Dorothy's plan. Suddenly a pirate chief and his band appear. Miss Primer, thinking they are but Americans in disguise, awes them and presses them into service as cooks.

Meanwhile, Billy is captured as the real pirate. With the aid of Dorothy he escapes and goes for help to capture the real pirate chieftain.

The pirate chief falls in love with Miss Primer, and Billy is free so that everybody is happy at the last sound of the ukuleles and the last whisper of "aloha."

The committees included: Business: Robert Potter, Wilmer Freeman, and Peggy Hachet; Hawaiian scenery: Miss Sellers and Miss Rubinette Rice; make-up: Miss Gladys Duguid and Miss Joanna Rhoads.

GLEE CLUB

There is a reason for the sweet tones of the Glee Club this year. The girls stroll into Glee Club still munching the remainder of a "snatched" candy bar.

This year the girls elected as their officers: Betty Mavis, president; Jeanne Collins, secretary-treasurer; and Betty Kreider, music-librarian.

The Glee Club has entertained many clubs and organizations around Auburn with their favorite songs: "Flower of Dreams," "March of the Little Tin Soldiers," "Venetian Love Song," "To Spring," "Tales from the Vienna Woods," and "Dedication."

Miss Brandon has built the girls' voices into a beautiful piece of sweet harmony and deep, rich color tones. Miss Brandon is new this year, but her winning personality and excellent voice have won the entire confidence of the music students.

Ruth Shaffer was piano accompanist for the Glee Club this year.

GIRLS' CHORUS

The girls have practiced twice a week on Monday and Wednesday. The chorus is made up of freshman and sophomore girls.

This year Miss Brandon has introduced into their course of study: ear training, harmony, lives of famous composers, music fundamentals, and music appreciation.

"But the melody

GIRL RESERVE

Girl Reserve is the youngest organization in the high school, having been organized late in the first semester. The sponsors are Misses Hudgel, Dawson, and Clark.

The group elected as its officers for the year: Willidene Kimmell, president; Jane Hines, vice president; Jean Rowley, secretary; and Dorothy Boren, treasurer.

A group of the Garrett Girl Reserve came over and initiated the girls, January 5. On March 1 a Skating Party was held at the Silver Moon and was very successful. A Mother and Daughter Banquet was held April 12.

The meetings were held the first Monday in every month at the Y. M. C. A. The meetings consisted primarily of the business meeting and talks.

Girl Reserve is a sister to the Hi-Y, being a national organization and sponsored by the Y. W. C. A.

The meeting will now come to order.

HISTORY CLUB

The purpose of the History Club is to promote interest in current, past, and possible future events, on the part of its members. The organization has completed a number of successful years with Mr. Weathers as sponsor.

Those students interested in joining the club met late in the first semester and elected as their leaders: Wilmer Freeman, president; Lionel Fleming, vice president; Betty Mavis, secretary-treasurer; Virginia Smith, assistant; Ruth Shaffer, pianist; Jane Hines, assistant; Elizabeth Brown, song leader; and Jeanne Carmer, assistant. The committee chairmen for the year were Doreatha Fisher, Betty Kreider, Iris Pendland, Jeanne Carmer, and Tom McCrum.

The club met every other Thursday at the Y. M. C. A. The first meeting of the year was a potluck. The remaining meetings of the year were composed chiefly of the business meeting, talks by students and people brought in from the outside, music, entertainment, movies, and refreshments. It held a Skating Party at the Silver Moon on February 24.

The outstanding achievement of the History Club was the purchase of shades for Mr. Weather's Room, which made it possible for movies to be shown.

BOYS' HI-Y

A common announcement heard every Tuesday morning is "Hi-Y Tonight 7:30, EATS!" and sometimes is modified to "Hi-Y Tonight, 7:30, NO EATS!"

This active organization is composed of boys in the Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes. It is sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. and supervised by Mr. Harry Kreider and Mr. Kenneth Ettner.

During the year the Hi-Y employed two methods of raising funds to meet some of their expenses, selling jello and sponsoring school dances.

On March 15 a district convention was held here. Butler, Garrett, Angola, and Waterloo were represented. Mr. H. M. Messenger and Mr. Mel Carver of Indianapolis were the main speakers.

The officers for the first semester were Lawrence Wible, president; Bob Beatty, vice president; Leonard Hess, secretary; and Adrian Mavis, treasurer. The officers elected at the beginning of the second semester were Lawrence Wible, president; Adrian Mavis, vice president; Leonard Hess, secretary; and Neil McKenney, treasurer.

What a silly grin, Ettner.

HOME ECONOMICS

Many students probably wish that they had taken home economics when they catch the tempting odors which issue from the foods laboratory. The club has thirty-one members under the supervision of Miss Cecile Hudgel, home economics instructor.

The officers chosen for the year were Betty Poppele, president; Jean Hull, vice president; Phyllis Hampshire, secretary-treasurer; Helen Hawver, news reporter.

Finances for the club activities were raised by selling candy at the basketball games and after school and by club dues. The club is affiliated with state and national Home Economics Clubs.

Meetings were held once a month. Some of the outstanding activities of the year were a skating party at the Silver Moon, an F. F. A. party, a lecture by Dr. Bonnell Souder on "Health," and a talk by Miss Lydia Sellers on "Pottery."

Soon after the opening of school the following were chosen as officers of the F. F. A.: George Cool, president; Robert Smith, vice president; James Habig, secretary; Deloss Culbertson, treasurer; Max Dilgard, watch dog.

The meetings are held the third Wednesday of each month, usually in the Y. M. C. A. A social event of the year was a Valentine Party given for the members of the Home Economics Club.

The week of the DeKalb County Free Fall Fair was a busy one for this organization. Besides furnishing a float for the school parade, many individual entries were made with highest awards being received by the following boys: Blake Smith, Keith Miller, Lawrence Boger, Roger Shull, and Max Green.

Boys who won awards at the County Muck Crops show were Roger Shull, Glenn Gaff, James Graham, Glenn Stebing, Lawrence Boger, and Deloss Culbertson.

The Auburn Chapter was successful in winning the County Pest Contest conducted with the chapters at Ashley, Butler, Garrett, and Waterloo. As a result they received a beautiful F. F. A. plaque.

SUMMARY OF ACTIVITIES

"What are you doing tonight?" "Oh, I have History Club." "And you?" "Hi-Y." "And you?" "Girl Reserve."

You see, there's always something going on. What's more, it's educational. All of these groups have some definite goal which they strive to attain through proper use of the mind and body. Each group is sponsored by a member of the faculty.

Some of the different clubs and their sponsors are: Glee Club, Miss Brandon; G. A. A., Miss Duff; History Club, Mr. Weathers; Girl Reserve, Miss Hudgel; Home Ec Club, Miss Hudgel; F. F. A., Mr. Hornaday; Hi-Y, Mr. Eitner; and the Lettermen's Club, Mr. Young.

Many social events are sponsored by these groups, such as, potlucks, skating parties, and dances which greatly add to the interest in school life.

ATHLETICS

ATHLETICS

The Spartans set a good example for us in training our bodies. We also mix a little brain with the brawn. You can see that for yourself in this section.

COACH YOUNG

"Zeke" has been Auburn's coach for the last fourteen years and is largely responsible for the team's success. Under his excellent guidance the football squad turned in five victories, losing but two games. "Zeke" is a friend to all—a credit to any school. From the bottom of our hearts we wish you the best of luck, "Zeke!"

COACH BROOKOVER

Although this was "Pete's" first year as coach of the Auburn Red Devils basketball squad, his record will long be remembered. His friendship and popularity has increased by leaps and bounds since he has come to our city. Judging by this year's team, great things are expected from him in the future.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Auburn High School Athletic Association is composed of members of the three sport squads and all students buying season basketball tickets. It is headed officially by Mr. Miller, the principal, and the officers who are elected by the student body. Rex Renz was elected president; Iris Pendland, secretary; and Mr. Schooley, faculty treasurer. Hard work and faithfulness on the part of these helped to make athletics a greater success.

The Girls' Athletic Association also plays an important part in the sports activity of the school. This organization, which is advised by Miss Wilma Duff, girls' physical educational teacher, actively engages in girls' sports. Elizabeth Brown was elected president by the members.

CAPTAINS, MANAGERS AND YELL LEADERS

After the football season was over, two captains, one backfield and one line, were selected by the squad. Pierre Talbert, was elected line captain. Shifty Raymond Scott, who played quarter-back on the Auburn eleven, was chosen backfield captain. These two boys deserved this honor not only for their fine play on the gridiron but also for their sportsmanlike attitude.

Last year's track squad elected as its captain, Earl Carr. Earl deserved this honor for his spectacular record-breaking run in the 200 yard low hurdles at the sectional.

Chris Burns was elected track manager. His duties were numerous, but he performed them well.

Bob Mark and Bette Myers were again our yell leaders. Their pep and enthusiasm aided greatly in bringing victory to the Auburn teams.

Bob Potter, who was football team manager and Zeke's right hand man, did a great job in keeping the fellows supplied with their needed equipment.

Glen Stebing was chosen by Coach Brookover to take care of the basketball equipment. He proved to be a capable manager.

FOOTBALL

Approximately fifty men reported for football practice on August 28th, and the prospects looked extremely bright.

With two weeks practice the Auburn Red Devils traveled to Columbia City turning in an impressive 30-0 victory under the floodlights.

The following Friday night the team journeyed to Decatur where they annexed their second straight victory, 26-0.

The third game of the season was played on the Howe Military gridiron. The Red Devils were pushed hard but edged a 7-6 victory.

Although the first home game was played in a constant drizzle, a large crowd of fans witnessed a 6-0 decision for the Red Devils over Bluffton.

The Auburn eleven was smothered by a powerful running and passing attack as the Central Tigers handed them a stinging 35-6 defeat.

In the third home game of the season the Red Devils thoroughly trounced the Hicksville, Ohio, football eleven by the score of 40-0.

For the first time in five years the Garrett Railroaders established their supremacy on the football field by a score of 31-14.

FOOTBALL

The season ended with the Auburn-Garrett game in which Earl Carr was fatally injured.

The Red Devils won five and lost two. That's a good record in anybody's language.

At the close of the season the following received letters for their hard earned praise: Neil McDarby, Raymond Scott, Rex Renz, John Tarter, Pierre Talbert, Paul Rugman, Stanley Hines, Leonard Hess, Glen Stebing, Perry Muhn, Robert Beaty, Robert Potter, Lawrence Wible, Howard Craven, Eugene Rinehold, Adrian Mavis, Archie Kirkpatrick, Richard Craven, Max Culler, Donald Schaab, Earl Carr, Junior Taylor, and Dennis McDarby.

Lawrence Wible, Howard Craven, Rex Renz, Perry Muhn, Glen Stebing, Paul Rugman, Robert Beaty, Raymond Scott and Earl Carr were the lucky ones to gain silver footballs. Leonard Hess, Pierre Talbert, and Stanley Hines received theirs previously.

BASKETBALL

RAYMOND SCOTT—"Scottie"—Guard

Although "Scottie" was a pack of dynamite on the offense, he never neglected his defense. He had the knack of dropping them in when they were most needed.

REX RENZ—"Hutch"—Center

"Hutch" believes that singing during time in action improves his game. Evident proof of this was shown by his excellent playing as regular center on the first five.

PIERRE TALBERT—"Pete"—Guard

Although this was "Pete's" first year on the varsity, he played the game like a veteran. He was never troubled by the other fellows pushing him around.

LAWRENCE WIBLE—"Wimpy"—Forward

"Wimpy," a cool and steady player, proved to be one of Auburn's best forwards. He would make points when they were most needed, thus pushing Auburn on to victory.

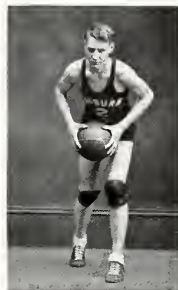

DON REYNOLDS—"Don"—Guard

"Don" will be remembered for his accurate long shots from the center of the floor. He will see more action next year.

BASKETBALL

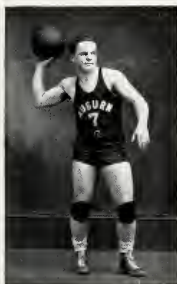

WALTER KLEEMAN—"Walt"—Forward

Although "Walt" was not always the highest scorer, his cool and steady playing figured largely in the team's success. One-handed shots were his specialties.

STANLEY HINES—"Stan"—Forward

"Stan" is small but has plenty of drive both on defense and offense. He should prove useful next year.

HOWARD CRAVEN—"Hod"—Guard

"Hod's" height and long arms made it possible for him to break up many passes. He also had a habit of hitting long shots from the center of the floor.

WILLIAM OWENS—"Bill"—Forward

"Bill," the only Sophomore on the team, came to us from Bedford. Having two more years to play, he is expected to do great things.

LEONARD HESS—"Gable"—Center

"Clark" saw a lot of action this year and helped the team on to victory. His height made him valuable under the basket.

BASKETBALL

The week following the close of football season found the Auburn Red Devils, under the direction of Coach Wilbur Brookover, being worked into condition for the first game.

Showing lack of practice, the Red Devils dropped the first game at Ashley, 30-17.

In the first home game of the season the Auburn five trounced the Albion ball club by a one-sided score, 35-12.

The following week the Red Devils traveled to Central Catholic and squeezed out a victory in the last two minutes of play, 26-23.

The Red Devils proved their superiority the following week by trimming the Butler Windmills by a score of 21-15.

In Auburn's initial North Eastern Indiana Conference game they chalked up their fourth straight win against Bluffton by a score of 32-23.

The Leo Lions defeated the locals at the Alumni Gym in a rough, fast, and exciting game, 31-26.

The Kendallville Comets fell before the dribbling and passing attack of the Auburn five, placing Auburn on top of the heap in the North Eastern Indiana Conference with two victories against no defeats. The score was 27-19.

A thrilling rally staged in the last few minutes of the game with South Side fell short three points as the varsity five dropped their first conference tilt by a score of 29-26.

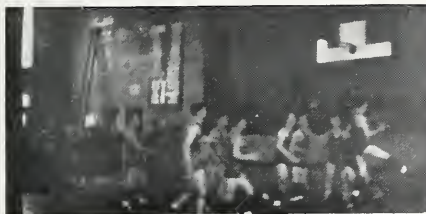

The Red Devils returned from Kendallville on the short end of a 33-24 score.

The team journeyed to Huntington to play Township, which team was formerly coached by Wilbur Brookover. The final score was 29-20 in favor of the Red Devils.

The following week the varsity five handed the Central Tigers of Fort Wayne a stinging 28-22 defeat.

BASKETBALL

The Decatur Yellow Jackets handed the locals an unexpected 28-25 defeat.

In a see-saw battle at the Alumni Gym the Auburn Red Devils emerged victorious over the New Haven Bulldogs, 28-26.

The Auburn Red Devils dropped a close decision to their old rivals, the Garrett Railroaders, by a score of 36-33 on the Garrett floor.

Against the Angola Hornets, Coach Brookover used the entire reserve team for the first half. The game ended 33-27 in favor of Auburn.

The Auburn Red Devils nearly upset the highly-touted North Side Redskins of Fort Wayne in a North Eastern Indiana Conference engagement. A spectacular rally in the last stage of the game turned defeat into a 37-35 victory for the Fort Wayne five.

The Auburn five defeated the LaGrange Lions to the tune of 44-39.

Two overtime periods were required before the Red Devils were successful in downing the Columbia City Eagles. The final score was 28-26.

The following night the Auburn five displayed an unbeatable type of ball as they overwhelmed the strong Warsaw Tigers by a score of 47-34.

In the last game of the season the Red Devils emerged victorious over the Hartford City Airedales, the score being 37-29.

TOURNAMENTS

The Red Devils dropped the first game of the Sectional Tournament held at Garrett to a fast and clever Waterloo five. A twelve point lead, held by the Auburn boys at one time, was not enough to hold the Wildcats from staging a spectacular rally. The Garrett Railroaders were sufficiently rested to defeat the Waterloo Wildcats in the final game of the tourney.

In the Regional Tournament held at Warsaw, Kendallville represented this section in the semi-finals held at Muncie. South Side won the state championship at Indianapolis.

SECOND TEAM

"Pete" Brookover coached the second team as well as the first team this year.

These Imps "cracked the ice" with a victory over Ashley, 44-25. Adding another scalp to their belts they defeated Albion, 31-12, in the second game of the season.

But "Alas" and "Alack." The locals slipped a cog and lost to Central Catholic, 24-19.

But staging a rally, the locals came back with three straight victories: Butler, 17-7; Bluffton, 14-13, and Leo, 20-19.

Coming up against a stone wall, the second team was defeated by Kendallville with a score of 23-19.

Making up for their loss, these "little demons" succeeded in routing South Side, 15-12.

But again the locals were defeated by Kendallville, 11-10. And again they retreated from Huntington Township, 19-16.

The world was all right again when the Imps won from Central of Fort Wayne, 21-17.

But deep gloom penetrates the air as the boys met three straight defeats at the hands of Decatur, 19-17; New Haven, 17-14, and Garrett, 31-17.

They're up again! They defeated Angola, 20-13. Now they're down! The Imps were defeated by North Side, 33-16.

They're now building up to a great let-down, maybe. Just like that, 1-2-3, they defeated LaGrange, 23-10; Columbia City, 22-20; Warsaw, 19-16.

But in the last game of the season they were outclassed and lost to Hartford City, 21-15.

The Imps leave a good record of 11 victories and 9 defeats for the season of '37-'38.

NOON LEAGUE AND INTERCLASS BASKETBALL

For the past few years Noon League and Interclass Basketball have been the principal means of entertainment for the students during the noon hour. This year the activities were under the direction of Mr. Ettner.

The Noon League captains were chosen, and they in turn picked their teams. The ten captains this year were as follows: Willis Engle, Glen Stebing, Ed Richards, Bob Potter, Bob Beaty, Joe Burton, Ted Owens, Bob McInturf, Lyndon Smith, and Russell Sisson.

The champion Noon League team was composed of Captain Bob Potter, Adrian Mavis, Archie Kirkpatrick, George Renner, Don Lochner, Dick Williamson, and Eugene Thomas.

In a tournament held for Noon League teams after the scheduled games had been played, Potter's team won over Burton's team in the final game.

In the Interclass division the Senior team proved too strong for the underclassmen. The Senior team was composed of B. McInturf, B. Beaty, B. Potter, Ed Richards, R. Sisson, W. Engle, G. Stebing, and L. Smith.

TRACK

After several weeks of practice under the guidance of Coach Young, the thinlies traveled to Garrett for their first meet. The Auburn boys outclassed Waterloo at this meet by a score of 61-30.

In the second track meet Zeke's boys proved victorious over Howe Military Academy, 78-37.

The contest with Garrett was a thriller, but the Auburn boys proved their superiority by defeating the Railroaders, 60-55.

The McIntosh High School athletes defeated the Albion track team by a rather one-sided score, 79-36.

In the sectional meet held at North Side of Fort Wayne, Earl Carr qualified for the state track meet. He ran the 200 yard low hurdles in 24.4 seconds to lower the mark of 24.7 seconds hung up by Brown of Central in 1936.

The purpose of the G. A. A. is to promote sports for girls, to stimulate interest in girls' health and physical activities, and to promote high ideals in these two important considerations.

The officers selected to lead the activities of the organization were Elizabeth Brown, president; Jeanne Trader, vice president; Veva Martin, secretary; Betty Steckley, treasurer; and Doreen McClintock, sport head. Miss Wilma Duff, the girls' physical education teacher, was the sponsor.

The association has had two successful bake sales in order to earn funds to meet some of its expenditures. Two parties were held, a "Kid Party" and the annual Christmas party.

The organization has established several traditions which are looked forward to by its members. Each spring a banquet is held at which the awards

In Memoriam

EARL CARR

Who passed away November 2, 1937.

"There are loyal hearts, there are spirits brave,
There are souls that are pure and true;
Then give to the world the best you have,
And the best will come back to you."

This simple little poem seems to describe fully Earl's ambition in life. Earl, who was better known by his school mates as "Stretch," was one of Auburn's best all around athletes. On October 30, in the last football game of the season, "Stretch" was hurt and suffered injuries to which he succumbed three days later.

"Stretch" was born in Auburn, March 13, 1920. He was liked by all who knew him, and his absence is felt deeply.

We of the Follies offer this humble tribute to his parents, relatives, and his innumerable friends. (That such an accident should happen to one of our number is something none of us may understand, but his example will lead us on to better and higher achievements).

STOWAWAY IS FOUND ON BUS

Davis Caught on Luxurious Liner

Jason, disguised as Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, was discovered on the "Dachshund." This super-super bus was purchased from Corbins'—dealers in superior junk, Waterloo, Indiana. (This is the famous "give and take" junk yard.)

The picture shows "Tiny" Davis originating his idea. The car looks a little small for "Tiny's" aspirations, and so he immediately calls on his mob for assistance. This gang was identified as the Auburn High Red Devils, including "Cutie" Scott, "Pretty Boy" Renz, "Tootsie" Wible, "Sluggie" Kleeman, and "Grandstand" Craven. With these assistants "Tiny" Davis planned his trip to Columbia City. Their first move was to secure a larger container for "Tiny." It was decided that he should be carefully wrapped in cellophane and placed in the satchel of "Pretty Boy" Renz. At the appointed hour a hush came over the city of Auburn. A sort of "calm before storm" atmosphere prevailed. A great crime was about to be committed. "The mob," silent, stern, and sinister, marched slowly into the "Dachshund." "Pretty Boy" Renz, carefully guarding the satchel containing "Tiny," entered the bus. He received, however, a slight setback when, on entering the bus, he failed to stoop high enough and promptly hit his skull. Only minor injuries were suffered—a slight dent in the door of the bus. The "never say die" spirit of "Pretty Boy" prevailed, and he entered that most magnificent bus of all busses, the "Dachshund."

When the gang was all settled comfortably in the bus, the driver loudly yelled, "Let her go, men!" and go she did. The "Dachshund" with all the power in her started. The remarkable thing about this bus is it starts immediately—especially when running down hill. The engine only dropped out twice before the start, and with a groan of joy she leaped into action—going nearly 17 84/16 miles per day.

All this time the mighty "Jason" was gasping for air in "Pretty Boy's" satchel. Finally, he was unable to stand it any longer, and he did it. Yes, he betrayed his mob. The gang that had done so much for him, too. He unzipped the satchel and poked out his head. Not realizing the danger of such an act, "Tiny" even went as far as to wave at "Pretty Boy." Imagine his utter delight in finding the "object of his affections" to be Supt. H. L. McKenney.

Now we encounter a little difficulty. Pierre Talbert, known as the mysterious man with the red toupee, became confused. "Samson," as he is known to his intimates (not inmates), lost sight of his left leg. He saw his arm someplace in the distance, and his right leg was found cramped under "Tootsie" Wible's nose. Wasn't it a good thing "Tootsie" had a cold and couldn't smell that day? Anyway, "Samson," try as he might, could not find his left leg. He was sure he brought it along—he usually did. But where could it have disappeared? This was most unfortunate for the gang because it was the clue that led to "Jason's" capture by those two detectives—"Clancy" Weathers and "Hawk-Shaw" Brookover. They had suspected something from the start, but they had such a time getting started they forgot what they suspected. All was well with "Tiny" and his mob until "Clancy" spotted a peculiar object protruding from the pocket of "What-a-Man" Hess. "Clancy" examined the dark object in Hess' pocket. TRIO RETURNS FROM EXPEDITION

Daring Explorers Return From Wilds of Laotto

Those three hunters of great fame have just completed another of their expeditions. They are "Crack-Shot" Beaty, "Trigger" Talbert, and "Dead-Eye" Wible, who have won fame by doing what no other explorers have dared to do—or wanted to—actually explore the wilds of Laotto.

Having nothing else to do but lessons, these three gathered supplies for their dangerous trip. A gun, a bone, and a hank of hair were their only weapons against the dangers they were sure to encounter.

Walking cautiously, "Trigger" Talbert picked up the first scent. Having no dog, Talbert was the only logical substitute. We repeat—with nose to the ground, "Trigger" picked up the first cent. Beaty had dropped the coin to see how good Talbert really was. They have only a few of their scents—we sense a pun here—it smells.

Convinced "Trigger" Talbert could do the job, the hunters pushed onward. The trail was lost, and they had to cut their way through dense underbrush. This foliage consisted of two blades of tough grass, one stick of huge size (three inches), one thorn, and two leaves. The remarkable thing was that only "Dead-Eye" Wible received injuries. He fainted with blood dripping from his finger, caused by a splinter. When his wound was dressed, the brave three plodded onward. Because of the terrific hardships they endured, each had to rest at this point (besides they were tired). When their adventure was resumed, their motto became "Laotto or Bust."

"Boys, we must bring 'em back alive. In this great jungle we must all stick together. If one of us sees a rare animal—like, say a rabbit—speak up and we'll all shoot him." This timely advice was given by "Crack-Shot" Beaty as he never sees any, anyway. All agreed to this, and their journey was continued. Then it happened—that for which they had waited so long. "Dead-Eye" Wible actually saw a rabbit! With a hand that trembled from excitement, "Dead-Eye" raised his double-barrelled shotgun. He took aim, shut both eyes, and pulled the trigger all at once. In his excitement he accidentally shot his own hat off. Well, could he help it if the gun was pointed the wrong way? After such hard labor, Wible wiped the sweat from his brow and gave over to his colleagues. Quickly, "Crack-Shot" Beaty came to the rescue. Pointing his gun with utmost care, he took aim. His eyes, narrowed with stern determination, crossed at a 70 degree angle and "pop!" Too bad he only brought his pop gun. Poor Beaty spent the rest of the trip hunting the cork from his gun. "Trigger" Talbert now proved his worth (four cents and one slug). He drew his gun—took aim with a steady hand and fired! By this time the rabbit was gone anyway and so poor Talbert retired defeated.

However, even this did not discourage these brave men. Undaunted in spirit they yelled, "Laotto or Bust."

If they couldn't even 'bring 'em back dead, they decided to bring 'em back any way they could.

"Quiet," yelled "Crack-Shot" Beaty.

"What's the matter?"

"I heard something," replied Beaty. Then it came again—a loud squeak. It sent chills up and down their spines. It made their hair stand on end. This loud, strange squeak made each turn cold with fear—besides it was cold outside. The loud squeal was heard again and "Trigger" Talbert cried, "After him, men—alter him!"

They advanced three et and found it to be the missing foot of "Samson" Pierre. While restoring "Samson's" foot, "Clancy" accidentally tripped over "Pretty-Boy's" satchel. Then the jig was up. "Tiny" was discovered. With a stern look arrests were made and the career of Davis as a stowaway was ended. (Continued within the next hundred years if we get time).

NOTORIOUS CRIMINAL CAPTURED

Gritty Sands Felled By Cream Puff Barrage

Gritty Sands, king of Newville's darkest underworld, is no more. The king is dead. (Long live the king!)

The man of the hour is "Mugs" Myers. Saturday evening "Mugs" was aroused from his sleep by Egbert Revere, the younger brother of the more famous Paul. "Mugs" at first was immune to the deafening noise made by Egbert as he beat his head against the door. But before an hour had passed, "Mugs" was up and doing his exercises. Egbert informed Myers that "Gritty" was coming after him to get revenge for his threat that he would wipe out Newville's underworld. Myers donned his smoking jacket and sat down to read the newspaper, but immediately climbed to the attic. With his good eye he peered off into the darkness. In the distance he could see "Gritty" coming down the road on a handcar, holding a bag of cream puffs in one hand. "Mugs" remembered the British, one if by rowboat and two if by scooter, but Sands had crossed him up and so he hung three lanterns in the window. "Mugs" ran downstairs and grabbed his trusty bag of cream puffs. They were said to have been used by General Grant in his battle against B. O. He marched into the street just as "Gritty" appeared on the scene. Then there took place the most puffy battle the world has ever known. Spectators to the right of them, spectators to the left of them—stormed at by cream and puff as handcar and hero fell—slung the both of them. "Mugs" was wounding "Gritty" right and left with the true aim he had acquired while playing cowboy and Indian. Finally with the loss of too much sleep, "Gritty" went down for the count of ten.

This incident brought to a close another thrilling episode of "Mugs" Myers' career as one of Pelven Murvis' Ace G-men. "Mugs" received a liberal reward from the government for his daring feat and will retire to his estate in Auburn Junction overlooking the majestic waters of West Creek.

Returns from Expedition

abreast and with guns raised—all fired at once. They all hit! (Fooled you, didn't we?) Going over to examine their prey, they found it to be a ferocious gray mouse. It was rather scattered, but a few parts were saved. "Crack-Shot" Beaty fainted from the horrible sight, and "Trigger" Talbert was so frightened his hair changed colors. (It is now orange.) "Dead-eye" Wible lost a finger which the mouse bit off. He committed that horrible breach of etiquette of sticking his finger in the mouth of his prey. However, they gathered together what was left of the gray mouse and brought him back from the wilds of that dangerous country in which it had lived since infancy.

When they returned home, a large crowd greeted them—two men and one gentleman. This cheering crowd viewed the great and strange specie the hunters had brought back. This animal had, heretofore, been unheard of, and so each hunter was acclaimed a hero. Each was given a tin medal and put in the museum of "freaks of nature."

CORN FED LADS RIDE AGAIN

World Record Shattered
By Local Boys

The cross-country bicycle record was wiped from the books today as Blake (Dash) Smith and "Bruiser" Provines put their wheels to the dirt.

Track authorities predicted a record run for these two lads, the weather and track being in ideal condition. Before the race "Bruiser" said that his "Sedan Special" was in the top condition; and "Dash" Smith also said that his "Laotto Loafer" had been geared up to attain the highest possible speed. The race began at the Court House promptly at two o'clock with a shot fired by "Zeke" Young, honorary time keeper. At the sound of the gun the boys sprang forth in their seats and struggled desperately for the lead in this gruelling race. "Dash" gained his lead when "Bruiser" was forced to stop for air and water at Auburn Junction. "Dash" was cruising along at about one knot, biting his fingernails as he went and paying little attention to "Bruiser," who was fast gaining on him. "Bruiser," who was known for his ability to cut-up, threw confetti into "Dash's" eyes, thus blinding him. But "Bruiser" in his effort to gain momentum had burned the tread off his back tire. The wheel spun so fast that it threw dirt into "Dash's" eyes, who was now close behind. "Zeke," who was cruising along in his "super-charged" fire-wagon, tried time and again to stop this foul play, but his efforts were of no avail. As the lads took the banked curve at Garrett, coming into the home stretch, they were neck and neck, but "Bruiser" having the longer neck breezed in to a win.

After the race the lads were stormed by autograph seekers and camera men. "Scoop" McKenney of the Junction Press was also on hand to cover the story for the final edition.
